DE MORSE'S D'MORSE'S INVICORATING CORDIAL

TOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has a stended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitack, and General Protertation, or any of the consequences of youthful induscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact, as a remedy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in tills country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISHASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, less of MEMORY, OUNFU-ION, thoughts of self-destruction, feer of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or svil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, unissions, &c., were incurable. This, however, is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has cured, and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, a the following testimony of the names received will conclumental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of —, Massachusetts Insane Hespital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, precured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whosever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladise relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimeny to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its pedifier and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not, in a single instance that has been suthenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsapariliae,) without took will cure me."

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, beddes years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION.—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but de good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., and try only this. It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price $5 per bottle; two bottles, $5; six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

N. B.—Important advice accompanying each bottle.

DR. JOHNSTON,
Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduste from one of the most emiment Colleges of the United Statos, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were sere known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when seleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and soldary habits, which rules both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melanchely effects produced by early habits of youth, vis: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loes of Musoular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loes of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Saif Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice se fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Indigastion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to soldery.

GANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous Bystem, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emacated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and bedy are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life become a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hearly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the meanth of the shadowed with despair, and filled with the meanth of the cur own. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his honor as a Gentleman, and confidently raly upon his skill as a Physician.

To STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient quare by that the affected will find a skilful and honorable physician.

TAKE NOTICE.

guara by that the afflicted will find a skillful and honorable physician.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprefessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fall to full into the hands of those imprudent, boasting impostors—individuals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pediars, shownakers, mechanics, &c., advertising themselves as physicians; ignorant quacks, who keep you trifing month after month, as long as possible, and in despair leave you with ruined health to sigh over your galling disappointment. It is this motive alone that induces Dr. J. to advertise, for headons can care you. To those unaequainted with his reputation he deems it necessary to say, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his Office.

BY ANNE WOORGOFF, author of "Michael Kemp." In two volumes. R. Carrer & Brothers.

"A charming book, full of deep, true, and glowing sentiment, with lively glimpses of character, pen-portraits and sketches, which keep the interest ever alive, and within wise instruction is so happily blended that the pleasure of the book is only equalled by its profit. It is a better book than "The Wide, Wide World," which has been so widely and justiy popular, and we are sure that those who reed this will be glas that we have called their attention to it."—

Transition Coal.

This rare and valuable Coal is a variety not quite changed into an anthracite, and it has only been discovered (in large quantities) at three places upon our globe, viz: at South Wales, Great Britain; at Dones, in Russis, near the Black Sea; and at Dauphin and Lebanon counties, Pennsylvanis. In the London market this coal commands the highest price. It is now mined upon the large estate (43,000 across) of the Dauphin and Susquehana Coal Company, situated in Pennsylvania, and it is nearer to the cities of Baltimore and Washington than the coal of any other region. For easy ignition, durability of fire, complete combustion, easy scaptation to the temperature of the weather, and its great power in generating heat, it is the Rest coal is the world. It has the inflammability of the bituminous coal, with the cleanliness of the authracite, and a greater describitly than either. It burns without making any soot or visible smoke, and the combustion is so complete that it retains the fire until all the coal is consensed. Not so with the anthracites, especially the hard and heavy kinds. They do not burn up, and hence the common troublescene practice of sifting their sales to obtain more fuel. In burning the Transition Coal there is no vocate, for the small coals made by handling, burn as well as ordinary coal. All hould be burned together. If screened at all the dust only should be taken out. With regard to the culture of the intellect-the development of the reasoning and reflecting fuc-ulties—the great aim of the teacher should be to secure a perfect understanding and an accurate conception of the ideas unfolded; a habit of close discrimination and clear deduction of facts and principles, and a rigid analysis of whatever is presented to the mind. Wherever teachers have been found possessing the requisite talents and administrative ability to secure the pleasing exercise of both the intellectual and moral faculties upon the innumerable objects of nature and art; to call into play the finer and nobler senti-ments of the affections; so to vary the routine of taken out.

A very erroneous impression exists with many persons that the heaviest coals are the most economical for ordinary purposes. This might be the case if coals were sold by means automate, but never when they are sold by winar. In Taylor's valuable work, (Statistics of Coal.) the details are given to show that 31 pounds of a fee-burning red ashysical ed more heat to a room in 18 hours, than 37 pounds of a fee-burning red ashysical ed more heat to a room in 18 hours, than 37 pounds of a heavy white ash coal, making the red ash, at $5 00, to be person accustomed to use these heavy coals will be astonated at the saving which can be made in burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burning the lighter kinds and a specific solution as to afford room for the equal and harmonious development of the characteristic germs of intellect and of thought which are found and process of intellect and of thought which are found and process of morality, which the most immature intellect and of thought which are found and appreciate, for the summary appeal to physical force, the results and the summary and beneficial. In this medical particular and the summary and benef bud, blossom, and expand under the genial influences of kindness and love; and the foundations of future usefulness, happiness, and well-being called at the saving wind can be made in outning the size of kinds, when tested by the weight and burnt in a suitable manner.

An apprehension exists with some that the free-burning coals have a tendency to clinker. Now, as a general rule, no coal will clinker unless a greater draught be applied to it than the coal naturally requires. No one would think of applying a bellows constantly to a fire made of seasoned history or oak wood, and it would be equally as absurd to apply a blast constantly to a free-burning coal. But the heavy white sah anthractics cannot be burnt without a powerful draft, and without using a larger quantity of coal than the temperature of the weather sometimes requires. Various patterns of stoves, furnaces, cocking ranges, &c., are invented annually to conquer this difficulty, but it has never been done with complete success. In every contrivance, however, which has been invented to burn coal, the transition variety will make a beautiful fire, and no complaint will ever be made to a manufacturer or seller of grates or stoves when this coal is used. The draft alone is to be regulated by a damper. In introducing this new coal for the first time, prepared as it now is by steam power machinery for domestic use, it may give greater confidence to the buyer to say that the celebrated free-burning red ash veins in the Peach Orchard district, near Potteville, are a continuation of the Dauphin veins, and they approach the nearest in value to the Transition coal.

Shipments of the Transition coal have already been made to the District of Columbia, and it can be obtained at retail from the following persons:

Wm. T. Dove, Washington. are permanently and durably laid.

The teacher should come to his task with a mind theroughly imbued with the principles and details of elementary knowledge, in full possession of physical health; with a firm determination to refrain from every the least exhibition of passion or of temper, however great the provocation; with an amiable disposition, and a heart "open as day" to all the mild, and holy, and beautiful influences of childhood. By an undefinable attraction, as invariable and certain as that of the magnet to the pole, the hearts of children will intuitively respond to these unaffected manifestations of interest and regard beaming from the countenance and pervading the action of their instructor.

At the hour assigned for opening the school, the buoyant energies of the tumultuous and active throng should be sheeked, order restored, and the exercises of the day commenced by the union of every little voice with that of the teacher in one of those beautiful and instructive hymns so familiar to modern schools of the higher grade. This will be found effectually to soothe, solemnize, and elevate the mind, and to prepare it to listen with reverence and attention to the words of Him who "spake as never man spake," and to unite with their teacher in ascription of thanks giving to the great Governor of the Universe for all his blessings, and the expression of filial trust in Him for their continuance. This periodical and solemn recognition of the relation which exists between their Creator and themselves cannot fail to exert a most beneficial influence upon the minds and conduct of the children, and to impress them with a sense of moral responsibility eminently favorable to the development of their mental faculties.
